Re: Renaming of The Russell Senate Office Building

Dear Senator,

I write you regarding an issue of profound significance to the ethos of our democracy and our collective conscience as a nation. The symbols we choose to exalt within the corridors of power should reflect our shared commitment to justice, equity, and our enduring values venerated in our Constitution. It is our duty to ensure that the remnants of past evils are not celebrated, lest they overshadow our progress as a nation. A great exemplar of this occurred when the Senate took a noble and honorable stand and participated in the renaming of military bases that were named in honor of Confederate soldiers.

With this in mind and heart, I urge you to reconsider the name of the Russell Senate Office Building and consider reverting temporarily to its original designation, the Old Senate Office Building, until a suitable permanent name can be agreed to. This appeal does not stem from a desire to erase history, but rather from the conviction that Senator Richard Russell's legacy, marked by his ignoble, incessant, often insidious, opposition to racial equality contradicts the ideals we aspire to uphold.

Throughout his career, Senator Russell engaged in constant lobbying on behalf of opponents to Civil Rights. Among these efforts, he notably co-authored the “Southern Manifesto” in 1956, opposing the desegregation mandated by the historic Brown v. Board of Education ruling. He was a staunch opponent of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, describing it as “shortsighted and disastrous.” With a deep understanding of Senate rules, he wielded procedures like the filibuster as a weapon and prevented the passage of legislation that sought to make lynching a federal offense. He thwarted abolition of the poll tax, and curtailed employment protections for African-Americans.

Perhaps most telling of his beliefs, during a lengthy filibuster against anti-lynching legislation, Senator Russell professed a willingness to uphold “white supremacy in the social, economic, and political life of our state.” His public assertions, including ones that declared America “a white man’s country” and his outspoken opposition to “political and social equality with the Negro,” further underscored his divisive ideology.

Given that only the Senate has the power to remove this shameful name from its building, I ask that you initiate the removal process. Senator Russell's name has been on this building since 1972. It has long past time to remove this insult to people of goodwill from a building paid for and maintained with public funds. The notion that the Senate cannot agree on a new permanent name does not prevent the Senate from reverting to the previous name, which was "The Old Senate Office Building," until a new permanent name is approved.

Finally, and respectfully, I submit that venerating Senator Russell by naming a building in his honor perpetuates an endorsement of views that are antithetical to our nation's principles. By removing the name "Russell" from the building, the Senate will advance our noble quest for a more perfect Union. What the Senate did by renaming military bases bearing the names of Confederate soldiers, it can (in the name of honor and decency) do for its own shameful Russell Senate Office Building.

I thank you for your attention to this pressing matter and kindly request that you would respond in writing to my request.

Sincerely,

Al Green
Member of Congress
